

FELLOWSHIP OF THE HEART — Getting Started

Weekly Companion Debrief Sheets

Twenty-two Wednesdays · CCA pilot year 2026–27 · one page per session · second edition — the Ladder of Signs

How these work: fill one page within 24 hours of each session — ten minutes is enough, and it feeds the look-back of the Thursday Call. The signs are watched in the room with no form in anyone's hand; this paper exists so what was seen is not lost by Thursday.

Five rules, carried from the Handbook, the Three Vital Signs card, and the field:

1. Read the rung the room is on. The sheets are printed to the year's defaults — first forms in Quarter 1, growing forms in Quarters 2–3, full forms in Quarter 4. Three consecutive weeks of Seen on a rung means the room is ready for the next; the Thursday Call confirms, and a room may move early — write it in. A rung that stops showing for three consecutive occasions is written withdrawn beside it — never a demotion, always a question.
2. The room's reading is its lowest sign on the rung being read. A "not yet" sends the team up — what have we not seen, or seen and not tended? — before it ever looks around for a participant to blame.
3. "No occasion" is no data, not a flag. An event-contingent sign with no event tonight is simply unread. (The first forms never need this mark — the liturgy itself schedules their occasion every week.)
4. No instrument runs until the Measurement Covenant is signed by everyone who will see results. That includes these sheets.
5. Family-facing pages (the before-and-after and the Pulses) exist only on a family's yes, given in the Week 1 permission conversations. These sheets are different: a shepherd's eyes, not a survey — permission is for pages, never for care.

Filled sheets carry names. They live in one place: the secure folder on the Lead Companion's computer, which only the Head of School can also access — and nowhere else. Not a bag, not a kitchen counter, not a phone photo; paper gets filed or transcribed promptly.

All twenty-two Wednesdays are dated, September 2, 2026 through April 28, 2027. If the school shifts a date, write the change onto the sheet — the curriculum does not move.

Held under the Measurement Covenant — mirrors, not levers · filed to the secure folder on the Lead Companion's computer (Head of School access only) · measure nothing you will not weep over.

Reading the Room — the Ladder of Signs

Read before Week 1 · calibration for every weekly sheet · the full discipline is the Three Vital Signs card

The year's own goal (Handbook §1) is the threshold of the Level 2-to-3 transition — so the sheets read the room at the level it is actually growing through. The three signs as fully defined are Level 4–5 muscles; a young room will not show them for months, and that is not failure. Each sign therefore has younger forms of the same muscle — one construct, three ages:

| Sign                    | First form — read Weeks 1–6(Responding, Level 2)                                           | Growing form — read Weeks 7–17(Valuing, Level 3)                                              | Full form — read Weeks 18–21(Levels 4–5; steady is a year-two horizon)         |
| Costly Telling   | Answering — one true thing about their week with God, when invited (“nothing came” counts)     | Offering — unprompted, out of the week's own practice; a lapsed practice honestly reported counts | What God said and what obeying cost — or that God was silent and what staying cost |
| Response to Load | Settling — the room lands when the container opens; the opening prayer entered, not waited out | Absorbing — friction handled without the leader; turned toward God, not advice                    | Real load borne Godward in the first ten seconds                                   |
| The Sought Stray | Prompted noticing — pointed, someone goes                                                      | Naming — the missing and the quiet named unprompted, and prayed for by name                       | Seeking — someone goes after them, unpointed, carrying something of the practice   |

The three marks. Seen — the muscle showed tonight. Not yet — the occasion came and the muscle didn't show; tend it, don't grade it. No occasion — the event never arose; that is no data, not a flag. The first forms never need the third mark: the container, the prompts, and the pointing are scheduled occasions, built into every single week. The higher rungs are event-contingent — and the year already schedules their events: the three re-entries are load tests (that is what the break experiments measure), the second-running nights are absence tests, and the Long Walk and testimony gathering are built occasions for the full telling.

What a young room is supposed to look like. In September, a room steady on Answering, Settling, and Prompted noticing is a healthy young room — write that down as good news. Months of first-form Seen is not a stalled room; it is a growing one. “Not yet” now means “below the rung we are reading,” which is a question the team can actually act on. And when a room shows a higher rung early, it goes on the sightings line — recorded with gratitude, never expected.

Moving up a rung. Three consecutive weeks of Seen on a rung and the room is ready for the next — the Thursday Call confirms and writes it onto the sheets. The printed defaults follow the quarters; the room, not the calendar, has the final say. When a rung is promoted, the one beneath it becomes a habit line — it should stay quietly true, and a slip there is a real flag. And the ratchet has a second mark: a rung already reached that stops showing for three consecutive occasions is recorded as withdrawn beside it — never a demotion. A room in a dry season has not lost what it learned; the withdrawn mark is what makes the team ask what the quiet means — a hard month, a family in crisis, a practice that stopped fitting.

The room reads itself, too. Once a quarter — set up at the quarter's close, answered together at the re-entry (Week 6 sends it home, Week 7 answers) — the room turns the weekly feedback questions on itself: keep, change, and what would you tell somebody about this group. The signs are never handed to the room — you map their answers to the three signs at the Thursday Call, on your side of the paper. The leader answers first; their keep-change-tell goes on the sheet, and the gap between their read and your marks is data, never a correction.

A note on words: the published Three Vital Signs card reads the signs as “steady” and “gray.” This pack field-tests the plainer marks and the ladder; the card follows once the room proves them out.

Held under the Measurement Covenant — mirrors, not levers · filed to the secure folder on the Lead Companion's computer (Head of School access only) · measure nothing you will not weep over.

What “Seen” Looks Like — Rung by Rung

One example per rung, and each sign’s counterfeit — count the realness, not the volume.

Costly Telling

Answering (first): asked for one true sentence, a ninth-grader says “I don’t really know why I’m here — my mom wanted this.” Real, small, enough. And “I prayed twice this week and nothing came” is the same sign — nothing came, told truly, counts.

Offering (growing): unasked, a dad says “I need to say — I dropped the morning question by Thursday, and I noticed I missed it.” An honest report with a small price. A passage that landed — or a prompt that did not — counts the same.

Costly Telling (full): “I asked God about the job decision Tuesday and felt Him say wait — and I told my wife, even though I’d already drafted the acceptance email.” What God said, what it cost. The second face: “I asked all month and heard nothing — and I kept asking.” Silence told, with what staying cost, is the same sign.

The counterfeit: fluent sharing with nothing at stake — hands up fast, words polished, nothing real underneath. Weeks of only-safe answers is the tell at every rung.

Response to Load

Settling (first): the container opens and the room actually lands — phones away without being chased, real quiet by the third line of the protocol. The opening prayer is entered, not waited out.

Absorbing (growing): a family arrives mid-reading; the circle widens, the reader keeps going, and nobody needs you to fix anything. When it is hard news, the room turns it toward God rather than toward advice.

Bearing (full): hard news lands, and in the first ten seconds someone prays before anyone complains, and someone moves toward the person.

The counterfeit: order that is really compliance to the adult in the room. The test the year builds in: does the settling hold on the nights a teen is leading?

The Sought Stray

Prompted noticing (first): “check on Maria” — and by pickup, someone is beside her at the door.

Naming (growing): “where are the Johnsons tonight?” — asked by a teen, not by you. And prayed for by name, unprompted.

Seeking (full): a teen goes quiet in the second half, and someone who is not you is already with her before pickup — nobody pointed. Whoever goes carries something of the practice — the week’s verse, the question — not only company.

The counterfeit: pursuit that smothers. Going after someone is love; refusing them room to breathe is not. The door held open, never forced.

The three ages of a room’s trust (the quarterly circle on the self-read sheets). HELD — the container holds them (eyes to the leader, “are we allowed to...?”, prayer-request distance; every September room, and healthy). KNOWN — they know each other (cross-family teasing that lands soft, quoting what someone shared weeks ago, long pickups). OWNED — each other’s people (“these are my people,” the room corrects itself, a teen texts another family’s parent). Circle the lowest honest word at Thursday’s Call, and listen to the tell-somebody answers for the room’s own trust vocabulary. Two warnings: the first honestly-processed disagreement is usually trust’s footprint, not its failure — and the sweet, frictionless room may be the counterfeit. Full field guide: the Watching Trust Grow card.

“Round dropped tonight” — what the energy call means. A family arrives straight from a hard diagnosis, the room is raw, and you let the Feedback Round go and close gently with the blessing — the energy call working as designed. But if the round has been skipped two Wednesdays running because it feels slow or awkward, that is not an energy call anymore; it is drift. Bring it to the Thursday Call and put the round back.

The surprise — what did not go as expected, and what I did:

Week 1 — Welcome to the Journey

Quarter 1 · Date: September 2 · 4:15–5:30 PM · reading: first forms · attendance: _____ of _____

The three vital signs — first forms (read the young rungs; they have an occasion every week)

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet Answering — when invited, people said one true thing about their own week with God, however small — “nothing came,” told honestly, counts — Costly Telling’s first form

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet Settling — the room settled when the container opened; the opening prayer entered, not waited out; came back when called — Response to Load’s first form

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet Prompted noticing — when pointed toward someone gone quiet, somebody went — the Sought Stray’s first form | sought, declined: ☐

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

The room’s reading is its lowest sign on the rung being read. A “not yet” sends us up — what have we not tended? — before it looks around.

Sightings above the rung — never expected, always recorded (Offering, Absorbing, Naming — or a full sign showing early):

The Leader Feedback Round — the scheduled weekly telling

Leader tonight: _____ went well / do differently — what they said, and the room’s echo:

☐ Round dropped tonight (energy call — twice running is a team flag, not a new normal)

The surprise — what did not go as expected, and what I did:

Who spoke in the shared circle: ☐ everyone ☐ most ☐ a few carried it Not heard from lately: _____

Passed: _____

Disagreement or friction tonight — how did the room process it? (Leave blank if none; note it when it comes.)

This week specifically

The gate: Measurement Covenant signed by everyone who will see results? ☐ yes — no signature, no instruments

Welcome packets home tonight: _____ of _____ families

Permission conversations — the gap week is the window: scheduled _____ of _____ families (survey handed only on a yes; one yes covers the year’s five pages)

One True Sentence — anything worth remembering:

Follow-ups — the 48-hour rule (name · need · owner · by when)

Decisions log (Thursday call) — anything changed in design or content: date · what · why · whose call:

☐ Nothing near the Section 6 protocols tonight ☐ Something — logged separately; Lead told within 24 hours

Held under the Measurement Covenant — mirrors, not levers · filed to the secure folder on the Lead Companion’s computer (Head of School access only) · measure nothing you will not weep over.

Week 2 — The Soil of Your Heart

Quarter 1 · Date: September 16 · 4:15–5:30 PM · reading: first forms · attendance: _____ of _____

The three vital signs — first forms (read the young rungs; they have an occasion every week)

Permission conversations done: _____ of _____ · yes so far: _____ · surveys back: _____ (more arrive as conversations finish — gentle, never chased)

First family clusters (parents first) — how did they hold? ☐ held well ☐ mixed ☐ strained

Held well looks like: parents went first with something real, not a speech; teens answered the four soil questions in their own words, however awkwardly; silence was allowed to sit; no parent answered for their teen. Strained looks like: a parent correcting or lecturing on a teen’s answer; a family performing (“we’re all good soil here”); a teen shrugging through all four questions. Strained is normal Week-2 material, not failure — note who, tend it at the Thursday Call.

This week specifically

The leadership-absence read — who led: _____ ☐ held ☐ held with help ☐ an adult took it back · led before?

☐ yes ☐ no

Held looks like: the room spoke to the teen leader, not around them to an adult; the container language survived in a younger voice; adults resisted rescuing the first wobble; the blessing round still happened. Taken back looks like: an adult fielding questions the teen should have fielded, or the room's eyes returning to the adults. One rescue is a note; a pattern is a Thursday Call item.

Stories complete — first Participant Profile entries this week (the profile page waits for this night on purpose).

Follow-ups — the 48-hour rule (name · need · owner · by when)

Sightings above the rung — never expected, always recorded (full signs showing early):

The Leader Feedback Round — the scheduled weekly telling

Leader tonight: _____ went well / do differently — what they said, and the room's echo:

☐ Round dropped tonight (energy call — twice running is a team flag, not a new normal)

The surprise — what did not go as expected, and what I did:

The room

Who spoke in the shared circle: ☐ everyone ☐ most ☐ a few carried it Not heard from lately: _____

Passed: _____

Disagreement or friction tonight — how did the room process it? (Leave blank if none; note it when it comes.)

This week specifically

The leadership-absence read — who led: _____ ☐ held ☐ held with help ☐ an adult took it back · led before?

☐ yes ☐ no (anchors on the Week 4 sheet)

Follow-ups — the 48-hour rule (name · need · owner · by when)

Decisions log (Thursday call) — anything changed in design or content: date · what · why · whose call:

☐ Nothing near the Section 6 protocols tonight ☐ Something — logged separately; Lead told within 24 hours

Held under the Measurement Covenant — mirrors, not levers · filed to the secure folder on the Lead Companion's computer (Head of School access only) · measure nothing you will not weep over.

Week 9 — The Garden of Your Heart I

Quarter 2 · Date: November 18 · 4:15–5:30 PM · reading: growing forms · attendance: _____ of _____

The three vital signs — growing forms

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Offering — brought unprompted out of the week's own practice — a passage that landed, a prompt that did not, a lapsed practice honestly reported — Costly Telling growing

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Absorbing — small friction (a late arrival, a wrong-footed joke) absorbed without the leader fixing it — turned toward God, not advice — Load growing

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Naming — "where's Maria tonight?" said unprompted — the missing named, and prayed for by name — the Stray growing

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

First forms still habit (Answering · Settling · Prompted noticing)? ☐ yes ☐ something slipped: _____ — a first-form "not yet" this deep in the year is a real flag

The room's reading is its lowest sign on the rung being read. A "not yet" sends us up — what have we not tended? — before it looks around. "No occasion" is no data, not a flag.

Leader tonight: _____ went well / do differently — what they said, and the room's echo:

☐ Round dropped tonight (energy call — twice running is a team flag, not a new normal)

The surprise — what did not go as expected, and what I did:

The room

Who spoke in the shared circle: ☐ everyone ☐ most ☐ a few carried it Not heard from lately: _____

Passed: _____

Disagreement or friction tonight — how did the room process it? (Leave blank if none; note it when it comes.)

This week specifically

Post-Series Survey handed out (yes-families): _____

Testimony gathering — moments named tonight worth keeping (tonight is a built occasion for the full telling sign):

Follow-ups — the 48-hour rule (name · need · owner · by when)

Decisions log (Thursday call) — anything changed in design or content: date · what · why · whose call:

☐ Nothing near the Section 6 protocols tonight ☐ Something — logged separately; Lead told within 24 hours

Held under the Measurement Covenant — mirrors, not levers · filed to the secure folder on the Lead Companion's computer (Head of School access only) · measure nothing you will not weep over.

Week 21 — Sending and Blessing — family commissioning

Quarter 4 · Date: April 21 · 4:15–6:15 PM — the extended night · reading: full forms · attendance: _____ of _____

The three vital signs — full forms (begin looking; steady full signs are a year-two horizon)

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Costly Telling — someone told what God said and what obeying cost — or that God was silent, and what staying cost

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Bearing the load — real weight landed — hard news, an emergency — and the room's first ten seconds bent toward God and each other

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

☐ Seen ☐ Not yet ☐ No occasion Seeking the stray — someone went after the quiet one without anyone pointing — carrying something of the practice, not only company

promotes to: _____ · the occasion, in eight words: _____

Growing forms still habit (Offering · Absorbing · Naming)? ☐ yes ☐ something slipped: _____

The room's reading is its lowest sign on the rung being read. A "not yet" sends us up — what have we not tended? — before it looks around. "No occasion" is no data, not a flag.

The Leader Feedback Round — the scheduled weekly telling

Leader tonight: _____ went well / do differently — what they said, and the room's echo:

This week specifically

Post-Series Surveys back at the door: _____

Reflection circle — themes the team heard (this is the cohort's closing, not assessment data; listen and note):

Week 22 — Commissioning the Companions — the rite

Quarter 4 · Date: April 28 · 4:15–5:30 PM

The rite is not measured.

Tonight the year’s work is sent, not scored. Watch only what must be tended, and let the rest be worship.

If anything must be tended
